

Toi Ohomai Institute of Technology Graduate Diploma in New Zealand Immigration Advice Scholarship 2022

Background

Toi Ohomai Institute of Technology offers one scholarship per annum to a domestic student who has enrolled into the Graduate Diploma in New Zealand Immigration Advice course. The student must be a voluntary or paid worker for a not-for-profit organisation that deals with immigration matters and must meet all the other eligibility criteria for this scholarship.

Value

This scholarship will cover the recipient's course fees to complete the Graduate Diploma in New Zealand Immigration Advice course – a total of eight papers.

Eligibility

Applicants must provide:

- proof of NZ citizenship or permanent residency
- proof of acceptance as a full-time or part-time student onto the 2022 Toi Ohomai Graduate Diploma in New Zealand Immigration Advice course
- career goals, including an intention to continue to work in the not-for-profit sector
- an indication of personal financial circumstances which show how this scholarship will assist the applicant
- proof of employment or voluntary work for a not-for-profit organisation
(This will typically be a letter signed by an official, on the letterhead of the organisation the applicant works or volunteers for, dated within the last month, confirming the applicant's role and responsibilities within the organisation and confirming that the applicant intends to provide immigration advice to further support the organisation once the applicant is licensed.)

Selection Panel

All applications will be considered by a panel comprising of key Toi Ohomai staff, as well as the Registrar of the New Zealand Immigration Advisers Authority (IAA).

Closing Dates

The final date for applications is Friday, 14 January 2022.

Applications must be received at Toi Ohomai by Friday, 14 January 2022.

Requirement notes

1. This may include an offer letter from Toi Ohomai Institute of Technology or a confirmation of enrolment.
2. This would typically be a letter from the employer.
3. This could be written confirmation from the head of the organisation that the organisation has not-for-profit status from the IAA, or a letter from the IAA recognising the organisation as a not-for-profit entity.

A not-for-profit organisation is:

- an organisation in its own right
- one that does not return profits to those who own or control it
- one that does not charge more than a nominal fee for services provided
- institutionally separate from the Government
- self-governing
- one that has voluntary membership and participation
